General Assault by Land and Sea on Santiago Begun.

(Special to the Herald)

PLAYA DEL ESTE, July 1. 11 a. m.— A general assault began on the city of Santiago at ten o'clock this morning and one hour later the combined land and sea forces of the United States were pouring a leaden hail into the doomed city. The Spaniards retreated to the last ditch where they are making a determined stand. The American troops are fighting like tigers and the commanding officers are having hard work to keep the men in check.

Quite a Menagerie

Quite a menagerie passed through this city this morning from Newbury-port, bound for St. Aspidochelone park at York beach. It consisted of a young black bear, a good sized monkey, an extra large green parrot, a toucan and a bull dog. Manager Evans purchased these yesterday to add to his collection of animals and curios at the park.

The toucan attracted the most attention while the horses were resting in front of the American express office.
The bird has a bill fully as long and nearly as large as his whole body and of a bright yellow color.

SUMMER LECTURES AT GREEN-ACRE.

The summer lectures at Hotel Green-acre commenced on Thursday, a large audience being present, including a goodly number of people from this city.
The opening lecture was delivered by Rev. Amanda Deyo of Philadelphia secretary of the Universal Peace union.
The subject was "The Peace of God," and was most eloquently treated.

Today, Friday, Rev. Arthur Peaselee, rector of St. John's church, Harvard, Mass., will lecture at 3:15 p. m., on "The Progress of Peace." Mr. Peaselee is one of the most eloquent divines of the Episcopal belief and his lecture will be of much interest.

Will Remain in Seattle

Capt. Bion I. Brown, who went from Portsmouth to Seattle on the Klondike schooner Concord, is now at Seattle, where he has been quite ill but has recovered. He writes that he will go to work there and will remain there for a while. He has given up the idea of going to the Klondike in search of gold.

Change in Duties

Orders were received at the navy yard this morning transferring F. W.
Hartford, clerk in the department of equipment and also clerk of the Labor Board, to the general store as clerk in place of Charles R. Wagstaff, who is transferred to the position filled by Mr.
Hartford.

A PLEASURE

To clean one of J.
S. Tilton's fine harnesses is the ver-diction from the coachman.
The leather is so fine, pliable and dar-able, and the trimmings are so heavily plated, that it always looks perfectly new. They keep every requisite for the stable in harness, collars, bridles, boots, blankets, etc., in all the latest improved designs and styles.

FROM CHICKAMAUGA

Soldiers to be Put Through a Novel Drill

CHICKAMAUGA NATIONAL PARK, Ga., June 30.—Brigadier-General Sanger of the regular army, who took permanent charge of the Third division of the First Army corps, yesterday, called a conference of his colonels this afternoon, at which preparations were discussed for the coming move. The packing up of surplus baggage will begin throughout the division (nine regiments) tomorrow, and at the same time a novel drill will be commenced.
The drill will consist of practicing breaking camp and pitching a new camp. Everything will be packed up clean. A practice march will follow and then will come striking a new camp.

The drill will be repeated several times until the soldiers become as adept as the poetical Arab.
Capt. Jake N. Patterson of Concord, the Civil war veteran, who went home in '65, as colonel of the Second New Hampshire, and who has since been brigadier-general of the National Guard in New Hampshire, was today detailed as acting ordnance officer of General Sanger's division, a post of great honor, and equally great responsibility.

In Captain Patterson's absence, which may be permanent, the Franklin company will be commanded by First Lieut.
Walter R. Brown, one of the best drilled masters in the regiment.

A brigade review this morning was followed by a pay muster, the name of every private being called with his service time, and Colonel Rolfe seeing each man personally.

The army pay car is down at Lytle, and the "ghost" walks in a few days.
The resignations of Capt. Otis G. Hammond and Chaplain L. Phelan were returned from Washington today, accepted.

The sick are holding their own. The revolvers given out today are very cumbersome unwieldy affairs.

WERE BOUND TO CELEBRATE.

Two youngsters, aged nine and thirteen years respectively, were matched into the police station at eight o'clock, on Thursday evening, with toy pistols as large as a common army revolver in their hands. They dropped into Pearson's store during the evening to look over his stock and quietly purloined the harmless weapons. While they were thinking of the easiest place to touch for a box of caps Officer Burns touched them on the shoulder and marched them to headquarters. They gave their names to Captain Hilton as Collins and Burke, and after several hours' confinement they were allowed to

MUST USE STAMPS

War Tax in Regard to the Transfer of Real Estate

Commencing today, people who do business with the registry of deeds will need to provide themselves with stamps.
Here is the schedule: Transfers in value from $100 to $500, 50 cents; for each $500 value additional, 50 cents; on mortgage less than $1000, no charge; for all over $1000 and not over $1500, 15 cents; for each additional $500, 25 cents; power of attorney, 25 cents; for one year leases, 25 cents; from one to three years, 50 cents; for all leases over three years $1.

Under this stamp law there will be no more concealing from the public the price paid for real estate. The number of stamps will tell the story even if the consideration is not named in the deed.
For years it has been the habit of people to state the consideration as "one dollar and other valuable considerations." Most people who buy or sell real estate claim it as a sacred right to keep the price to themselves.

LOST HIS FOOTING.

A word was telephoned to the police station early on Thursday evening stating that a man was lying beside the railroad track at the foot of Dover street, unconscious.

Officer McCaffery was at once sent to the scene, but met Officer Kelley on the way with the man in a buggy. It seems that the fellow, who had been drinking, tried to climb into a box car and losing his footing fell, striking the back of his head. The blow rendered him unconscious and a crowd quickly gathered.

When Officer Kelley arrived the fellow was just coming to his senses and with assistance was able to get into a team and be taken to the police station.
To Marshal Entwistle he gave the name of Patrick O'Gorman, thirty-two years of age, and said he came here in charge of some horses. He was locked up for the night.

son were assisted in receiving their Wilson. It was a very enjoyable occasion and a large number of friends called to pay their respects and congratulate the happy couple. Light refreshments were served, which included a mammoth wedding cake, each guest being presented with a piece.

Mrs. Wilson received in a white muslin de soie dress, trimmed with black lace, and a bouquet of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have hosts of friends who one and all wish them a long and happy life.

the defendants for the stock of plaintiff company, was completed in the United tiff, which they did without leaving their seats. The amount of verdict was $6858.67.

The case of Mary Howe of Franklin, charged with selling liquor without having paid the special tax, was not pressed at the request of the district attorney.

Spring

Is the season for new life in nature, new vigor in our physical systems.
As the fresh sap carries life into the trees, so our blood should give us renewed strength and vigor. In its impure state it cannot do this, and the aid of Hood's Sarsaparilla is imperatively needed.

It will purify, vitalize and enrich the blood, and with this solid, correct foundation, it will build up good health, create a good appetite, tone your stomach and digestive organs, strengthen your nerves and overcome or prevent that tired feeling.
This has been the experience of thousands. It will be yours if you take

FRIDAY JULY 1, 1898.

President McKinley is soon to nominate seven more major generals, if the places can be filled by promotion principally, as reported, probably Colonel Wood, who gave the order to his men to "fight, don't swear," and Teddy Roosevelt are likely to profit in the advance.

It is remarked as a notable coincidence that the late Hamilton Fish, Jr., was the grandson of Hamilton Fish, secretary of state under Gen. Grant, and the man who conducted the delicate negotiations with Spain over the Virginian matter so as to avert a war with Spain twenty-five years ago.

If it be true that the government or the "war board" or whoever or whatever power may be directing our warlike affairs, has decided to send a naval squadron to Spain to bombard the coast cities and capture or destroy Camara's fleet in case it turned back from the east, it is the most sensible move yet determined upon, if it is not promptly carried out. But if the "war board" is to sit six weeks in contemplation before the project is entered upon it will be a "fool" job at the best.
The way to do anything is to do it.

TO SAVE THE BELVIDERE.

Boston, June 30.—An effort is to be made to save the fruit steamer Belvidere, which stranded on the rocks of Cape May, N. J., a month ago. One of the officials of the Boston Fruit company, who has visited the scene, is convinced that with appropriate appliances he could be saved. Arrangements have been made with the New York Yacht club to send an expedition on the German steamer Senior, which has been chartered for the undertaking, and it is believed that an expedition sent under the protection of the German flag would be less liable to interference from the Spaniards.

SCHOOL BUILDING DEDICATED.

Weymouth, Mass., June 30.—Weymouth's $50,000 high school building was dedicated this afternoon. Addresses were made by Hon. William H. Olin, secretary of the commonwealth, Hon.
F. A. Hill, secretary of the state board of education, and Colonel Henry A.
Thomas, postmaster of Boston. This evening a banquet was held at which prominent guests spoke.

AN OLD STORY REVIVED.

London, June 30.—Inquiries made at the British war office today show there is absolutely no foundation for the Toronto rumor that General Lord Wolseley, the commander-in-chief of the British forces, who is said to be an aspirant for the office of governor general of Canada, is suffering from a cancerous growth and "cannot live long enough to come to Canada." The rumor is classed as being merely the resuscitation of an unfounded story of 18 months ago.

Pittsburgh, June 30.—The wage conference of the Window Glass Cutters league and manufacturers adjourned yesterday without reaching an agreement. The cutters demand an advance of nearly 6 per cent, which the manufacturers refused to grant. About 3000 cutters are affected.

AMERICAN-IRISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Annual Outing and Banquet at Hotel Westworth.

About seventy-five members of the American Irish Historical society arrived in this city on Thursday to hold their annual outing and banquet at the Westworth.

Everything was arranged to make their visit at that magnificent summer hotel pleasant, and the banquet provided by Manager Hill, was in keeping with his well earned reputation.

During the afternoon many historic places in Portsmouth were visited. These included the old Jackson house, built in 1664, and the old Westworth house, erected in 1670. It was here that the royalists were wont to assemble. The visitors also saw the home of Thomas Manning, a patriot of the Revolution, the house where Tobias Lear, private secretary to Washington for sixteen years, was born, the home of Governor Langdon, built in 1781, the residence of Rev. Dr. Langdon, who was at the sage of Lonsburg, and who, in 1771, became president of Harvard college, the Stavers' mansion, which was a rendezvous for the Tories, and which in 1775 was attacked by the populace.

There were also pointed out the home of Capt. Macpherson, built in 1718-23, and on which Ben. Franklin put his finger in 1762, the mansion built in 1730 by George Jeffrey, treasurer of the province, the home of Lieut. Hall, who served under John Paul Jones in the "Ranger," and the Mervin residence, 1769, built for George Mervin, British stamp agent, who was later banished in 1769, obliged to publicly resign and his commission given to the flame.

A point of special interest to the society was the site of Fort William and Mary, at Newcastle. It was here that, in 1771, John Sullivan, son of the Irish schoolmaster, at the head of a body of patriots, with John Langdon and others, captured 100 barrels of gunpowder, fifteen cannon, and a large quantity of small arms and stores. The powder was secreted by the patriots, and in 1775 a large portion of it was sent to Bunker Hill to supply the American forces. Had the whole of it been so sent the patriots, it is believed, would undoubtedly have again repulsed the British, and thus have won the day.
Other historic features of the neighborhood were also thoroughly enjoyed by the members and guests of the society. It was recalled that at the Portsmouth navy yard, just at hand, was built John Paul Jones' ship, "America," as well as the U. S. S. Congress, which was sunk by the Merrimack, the famous U. S. S. Kearsarge which sank the Alabama to the bottom, and other craft. Paul Jones' boatswain resided in Newcastle and in 1781 a lighthouse was built there. The visitors likewise saw Fort McClary, Fort Constitution and the old Walbach Martello tower, and to have been constructed in one night to repel an expected British invasion.

The evening at the mammoth hotel was thoroughly enjoyed, and when Hon. John C. Litchell of Concord, as president of the evening, tapped his plate at the close of the banquet, he was greeted with hearty and generous applause. There were many well-known orators present and they were listened to with the closest attention.
James G. Doyle of New York delivered an able address and he was followed by many others.

A minute was adopted during the exercises, protesting against the mooted Anglo-American alliance. It declared that the present efforts to bring about an alliance, cannot be regarded otherwise than as a conspiracy on the part of the English government and its abettors on this side of the Atlantic. It denominated those who prefer to call themselves "Anglo Saxons," rather than Americans, as of the same class as the Tories of the Revolution, "who took up arms against the patriots and who, in a later generation, were represented by the American traitors who burned blue lights along the coast to give information to the enemy." The minute further declared that "the American is not an Anglo-Saxon people, and the bold attempt to bolster up the ethnological lie has rendered the authors of it quite ridiculous.

"The strong expressions of friendship for the United States since our war with Spain opened," continued the minute, "from France, Germany, Russia and other European powers, demonstrates that we have no interference to fear from those governments, and likewise demonstrates that England has been, and is, engaged in a slanderous campaign against continental Europe, hoping by fair means or foul to draw us into the meshes of her alliance net. No American political party will commit itself to such an entangling move, unless it courts destruction. No American statesman will identify himself with the alliance project, unless he has concluded that it is time for his political career to end."

A notable member of the society present, was Mr. Charles H. Clary of Hallowell, Me. He is a descendant of John Clary, of Newcastle, province of New Hampshire, who married Jane Mahoney of Georgetown, Me., in 1750.
Four children were born to them before 1760. It is possible that this John Clary was descended from the John Clary who settled near Hadley, Mass., about 1670, one of whose sons was killed by the Indians. Several of the Clary family emigrated from Massachusetts to the Revolution. The Clarys and McClarys of New Hampshire became very numerous, and one of them, Andrew, held command in a New Hampshire regiment at the battle of Bunker Hill. Mr. Clary, the member of the American Irish Historical society, was one of the founders of the Clary-Richardson family, which meets annually.

A letter was read from President Gen.
Moseley, (ninth American generation), Washington, D. C., expressing regrets at his inability to attend the field day exercises. An official visit, as secretary of the Interstate Commerce commission, to the Pacific coast, prevented.

Mr. Bernard Cor of Boston read a paper giving a genealogical account of the Sullivan family of the Revolution.
He also presented a copy of an advertisement inserted in a Boston paper in 1745 by Gov. Margery Sullivan, mother of James Sullivan of Massachusetts, and of Gen. John Sullivan. The paper was of much interest and Mr. Cor was highly complimented.

Thomas Hamilton Murray, the national secretary of the society, reported the present membership as between 800 and 1000. Thirty-seven states are represented. Among the members of the organization are Catholics, Episcopians, Methodists, Baptists, Unitarians, Presbyterians, Congregationalists, and members of other denominations. The society likewise includes in its membership, representatives of each of the following organizations: Order of Col-
